Practices and Sectors

- Mergers and Acquisitions

Profile

Rodrigo has vast experience providing legal counsel to clients in local and cross-border transactions. Over the years, he specialized in project finance and infrastructure, private equity, corporate, joint ventures and strategic alliances, foreign investment and energy, oil, gas, and power generation. A seasoned lawyer, Rodrigo has participated in multiple financing mechanisms involving project sponsorships, project finance, lending, syndicated facilities, and financial leases, as well as in multiple cross-border and local M&A transactions, including hydrocarbons deals, PPT state schemes and power generation projects.

Studies:

- Law degree (J.D. equivalent), Universidad Panamericana, Mexico City

His working languages are Spanish and English.

Experience

Alongside private equity, project finance and infrastructure as his main areas of expertise, Rodrigo has significant experience in commercial lending and financing, general corporate and contractual structures, and government procurement matters. This in turn makes his multidisciplinary practice unique as he provides comprehensive advice to clients with his broader vision and deal-making approach.

Throughout his career, Rodrigo has led multiple multi-award-winning transactions, including the USD $1.1 billion simultaneous syndicated credit facility and Rule 144A/Reg S bond offering for the acquisition of InterGen’s business in Mexico, as well as the $850 million acquisition of Ventika I and Ventika II wind farm projects in Mexico.
