Profile

Angélica Domínguez joined Pérez-Llorca in October 2024 as a lawyer specializing in tax law. She has six years of experience advising national and international clients on various tax regulations, covering everything from local laws to international agreements. Her work includes the active identification of contingencies arising from the daily operations of taxpayers, as well as the planning and implementation of corporate restructurings and mergers.

Studies:

- Master's in Business Law, Universidad Panamericana, Mexico City
- Law degree (J.D. equivalent), Universidad Iberoamericana, Mexico City

Her working languages are Spanish and English.

Experience

Angélica is an expert in providing tax consulting services, with a specialized focus on the optimization and compliance of tax obligations for both national and international companies. Her role involves guiding organizations through the complex tax regulations in Mexico, ensuring they meet their responsibilities and mitigate contingencies through tax-efficient strategies.

She has substantial experience advising on international transactions, including the sale of shares and corporate restructurings. She assists companies with multinational operations in understanding and applying local and international tax regulations.
